Mountain Of Wealth Owned By Arrowhead Inspiration Mines Co.

With a mountain of porphyritic ore upon the Arrowhead Inspiration Mines company is not parading the question of highgrade, but is going ahead to develop on a scale commensurate with the magnitude of the undertaking. The holdings of the Inspiration indicate a mammoth mountain of enrichment that will yield with the porphyry coppers in production and permanency. A. J. Sale, of Byrne & Sale, of the well-known firm of Utah engineers, has been on the ground for some time giving the estate his earnest attention and his findings will prove interesting reading in the accompanying report. Other geologists, including Dr. A. H. Eftman, endorse the representations which bring a new element into the silver mining industry of the world. Mr. Sale stands without a peer among mining engineers in the Nevada field as he was associated with the Giroux mines of the Elko district for eight years as chief engineer and is known as the man who found the ore in the Giroux. He will have charge of operations at the Arrowhead Inspiration of which he thinks so highly that he has established headquarters at the new camp where he will give his personal attention to development.

Mr. Eftman, president of the Arrowhead Inspiration company, returned to the mine today to begin operations on a scale that should prove up the potentialities of the property in short time. The group will be developed through tunnels and the first hole has been spotted by Mr. Sale so that the installation of machinery will begin without any loss of time. The engineers estimate that in ten feet the drift will be in the ore zone and that within sixty feet the company will have brought into view values sustaining the theories of the experts. The vein has a known width of 200 to 1,000 feet, yielding $4 on the surface which is considered highly attractive when it is known that the whole mountain is mineralized and that the company has what is believed to be a steam shovel proposition. The following reports set forth physical and geological conditions that deserve the closest attention.

The property of the Arrowhead Inspiration Mines company consists of vein lode mining claims, known as the Tramp No. 1, Tramp No. 2, Tramp No. 3, Millionaire Tramp No. 2, Herman and Minnie No. 3 claims, situated in the northwestern part of the Arrowhead mining district, Nye county, Nevada, as shown on Ray's claim and my group map of the third district. The ground is reached from Tonopah, direct from Warm Springs Pass or from Arrowhead.

Geology: I have fully described the general geological formations of this district in recent publications, and will here state that for practical purposes, the various rock formations may be divided into two easily distinguishable series of rocks. The oldest formations which carry the veins and pay ore so far found in the district, are called the Arrowhead lode porphyries, consisting of diorite and monzonite porphyries and biotite andesite of Eocene or early Tertiary age. These lode porphyries were covered by later deposits of Miocene or Middle Tertiary rhyolite, andesite and basalt. In these strata again exposed the lode porphyries.

The veins in the lode porphyry are strong, well defined, fissure veins. The values are mainly in silver, which occurs as rich silver and argentine in the sulphide zone and as native silver and hornblende with some free gold in the oxidized zone which extends to a depth of

This lot does not include any of the extraordinary ore to which reference was made last Monday as that run in excess of the shipping values, some of it going $19,000 and $15,000 a ton, weighing 50 to 100 pounds. Divide Extension was regarded more favorably since it became known that the management had concluded to follow the highgrade down from the 200 level by sinking a winze. Belcher opened at 18, compared with early trading at 20, bid the previous evening. Under buying pressure the price advanced to 23 and then reacted to 20 sales. Unofficial statements credit the company with four feet at a depth of 85 feet that samples $40. The strike is believed to have been a segment of the big surface showing extending from Belcher to ground. The $5 ton level was worked from the Belcher. An old shaft in Belcher territory and proves conclusively, according to mining men, that the surface showing carries its values into the Belcher.
